Speaking of spectacular plays, the two games in Wisconsin Rapids this past week-end were plentifully supplied with them.

The best hair-raising episode of the "high" contest was when diminutive Bill Houston took the ball from Weinbauer on a fake punt and circled end for 42 yards before being hauled down. It looked like a sure ringer, but the Pointers thought better of it and decided "no."

It was a pass that worked to perfection for the local pros Sunday. Zuidmulder tossed a forward pass to Bitzer which Bitzer grabbed prettily and he slipped a lateral to Lutz which was good for 35 yards. It was something that the cocky Lagers certainly weren't anticipating and its success took them down a few notches.

The Lagers also had their play which fans acknowledged was swell. Cashman took a perfect pass from center and slipped around the local secondary defense as though it was stationary. Cashman didn't stop until he was on the Rapids 10-yard line and then he was halted.

Spectators got a great kick out of the time Bitzer made an opposing back repent for a wisecrack he slung verbally at our coach. Ken Cashman substituted for the Lagers and was playing right half on defense when the incident occurred. Bitzer made two yards off tackle on a play and K. Cashman sarcastically yelled at Herb, "Is that what you teach them in Adams-Friendship, Bitzer." The remark was repeated again and seemed to have no effect on the calm Bitzer.

On the next play, Zuidmulder carried the ball around left end with Bitzer forming interference. Herb entirely disregarded the end which he should have blocked out of play and headed for Cashman who was swiftly closing in to make the tackle. Bitzer hurled himself through air and made a perfect body block which took Cashman down so completely and hard that Cashman's wisecracks were heard no more in that contest.

That was where Bitzer displayed the "intestinal fortitude" of which he has such an elegant amount. Sand lot young fans call it "guts," but it was the late Knute Rockne who used the recognized adjective.

If you think the locals didn't miss the services of "Mickey" McGuire Sunday, well! Don't think that Cashman would ever have gotten away from the secondary defense like he did to place the pigskin in a scoring position for the Lagers first advantage, if the Hawaiian Irishman had been in there performing. "Mickey" didn't turn Big Ten grids into ashes because he was slow, but 'cause he could travel. McGuire would have nailed Cashman before he was nicely under way. Folks who have seen Mickey perform would no doubt agree with me, and our attack would have been much better Sunday if Ka-Ma-Ka-Mai-U-O-Ka-La-Ma was playing safety.

The Minne ola All Stars expect a set-up with the Rapids Sunday after hearing what the Lagers did to us. They are due for a surprise, though, as McGuire will be with the locals next Sunday and if that doesn't make a difference, you tell me!

The pigskin took a turn for the worst last Sunday and it got a trifle flat. The officials called for a new one and "Gloomy Gus" Loomis threw one to the umpire. The referee was getting another one at the same time from the other side of the field where the Lagers were sitting. The officials turned around and seeing that the other official had a ball, tossed the one they had back. They intended to resume play and neither had a ball.

The same thing occurred twice more before the law of averages won out and at last only one ball was on the field.

Instead of the Lincoln high school band showing their stuff next Sunday between halves, the Port Edwards Junior high school band will be there. This band is also very colorful and the black and orange outfits will add greatly to the scene.

Elmer Boles Rolls Almost Perfect Bowling Score

JUST ONE SPARE IN THIRD FRAME SPOILS RECORD

One lone pin swayed lightly from side to side, then remained standing as its nine mates lay scattered at the end of the hard wood alley, following the swift passage of a bowling ball.

By that narrow margin, in a third frame, Elmer Boles, this city, missed entering that select group in the keglers' "hall of fame" who have rolled "300" scores, in a match on the Wheelan alleys in the City league last night.

Sets New Mark

The mark of 279 that Boles hung up shattered all records for bowling this season in Wisconsin Rapids.

This remarkable score was registered on the Wheelan alleys last evening while Boles was rolling with the Penney keglers of the City league. He had registered two straight strikes, but the first ball in his third attempt carried only nine pins to their fate. One was left standing. His second ball spilled the long pin, crediting him with a spare for the frame and bringing his average down.

The importance of the one missed pin was not realized until Boles continued his great work to make the next nine frames all strikes. His other two games, with scores of 156 and 192, gave him a three-game total of 627.

Many Good Scores

The scores rolled last evening on the Wheelan alleys could easily be termed "major league bowling."

C. Miller copped the other honor available in individual performances when he rolled 638 pins in three games to take the honors of the evening for the three game series score. Beside taking merely the honors for the evening, The City League's former high-series score was shattered by the 638 mark and for a while at least, C. Miller will hold the top hand in City League three-game scores.

Miller rolled his score while rolling with the Peterson Dairy team in a two out of three game win over the Wood County Bank five. The Penneys won two out of three games from the Eagles bowlers but it took four games in which to do it. The first game ended in a tie, with each team having a total of 853 pins. In the roll-off, the Eagles won the game.

In the other contest of the evening in the City League, the Adams-Friendship five took a three-game win over the Herschleb Bakery lads, in the only easily won match of the evening.

New Team Record

Still another record was nonchalantly tucked away in the record books and a new one took its place. In the third game of the Penneys three games, the five-men team was credited with a total of 1,027 pins. Only the second game over 1000 yet this season on either alleys and it easily surpassed the other mark of 1019 pins, rolled by the Warsinski keglers on the Elks alleys a week ago, in major league competition.

Four men were credited with individual three-game scores last evening of over 600. Boles with his 627; Miller with 638; Carroll Nimtz with 606 and Bill Mickelson with 601.

Other excellent scores for single games were recorded. Besides Boles' remarkable 279 score were Delbert Parks with 233 pins, C. Miller with 232 pins; Fichter with 220 pins, Nimtz and H. Trieger with 210 pins each. Leonard Hicks with 208 pins, and Van of the twin-city team with scores of 210 and 214.

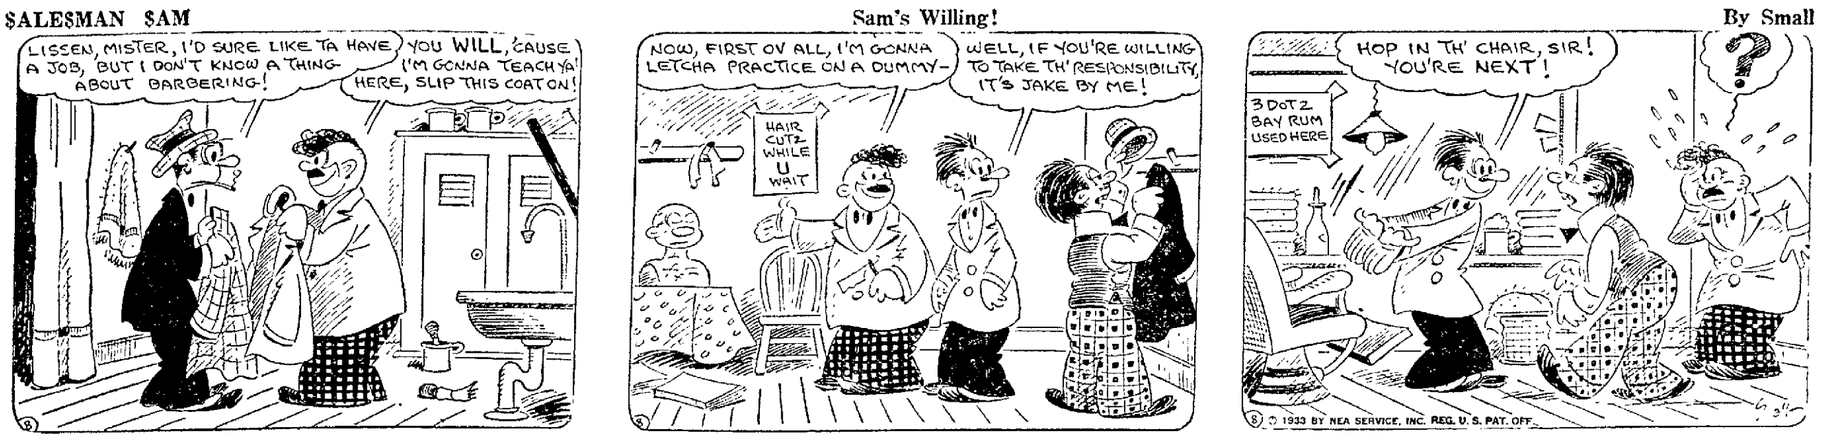
SALESMAN SAM — Sam's Willing! — By Small



BADGER ELEVEN SUFFERS MORE INJURY TO MEN

Madison, Wis., Nov. 8—Setup or no setup, West Virginia was accorded an honor today which has been given to no other team this season.

The Badgers were forced to drill for the Mountaineers in the field house because of the inclement weather, but unlike previous workouts in that indoor monument, today's practice was in the nature of a hard scrimmage.

And what happened was all to the bad, for the already long list of crippled warriors was swelled further by injuries to John Golemgeske, the team's leading tackle, and Bobby Schiller, regular blocking quarterback.

Two Others Out

These two were kept out of the late work along with Milton Kummer, Sheboygan guard, who reached stardom against Purdue only to suffer an injury last week, and George Deanovich, the team's most dependable wingman, who has also been on the sidelines for more than a week.

The workout started with a forward passing drill for the backs and ends, with Capt. Hal Smith, Lynn Jordan and Tommy Fontaine doing the pitching, but without anybody in particular doing any sensational catching.

Meanwhile the tackles, guards and centers were sent through a slow motion dummy scrimmage to get down their assignments on line blocking. And then started the hard work against the yearlings, who once again gave too good an account of themselves to please the vanity of the varsity, whatever of such they may be accused of having.

Given New Plays

There was some occasional ground gaining, however. Fontaine and Fish were at the halves, Westedt was at full in place of Smith, who is also injured, and Porett, himself not yet fully recovered from an injury, went in to replace Schiller.

The starting front wall had Haworth and Loyshin at ends, Golemgeske and Millar at tackles, Bender and Pacetti at guards, and Koenig at center, Ferguson later replaced Golemgeske.

The team was given some new plays which lent little practical advantage to the offense in their experimental stage, but which are designed to give the team more deception, and which may be mastered before those all-important final two games of the season against Ohio State and Minnesota.

Tomorrow the freshmen will go on offense, using plays brought back by Richard (Red) Smith, assistant freshman coach here, who scouted the West Virginia and Marquette game. The varsity will build up a special defense against "Eck" Allen, Mountaineer halfback who ran wild a year ago against Marquette.

Duquesne U. Eleven Gets High Ranking

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—Among football's miracle men consider the claims to high rank of Elmer Layden, Coach of Duquesne university of Pittsburgh.

Laboring patiently for eight years, Layden finally has developed a team that is rated among the best in the east and must be regarded as a serious threat for the mighty Pitt Panthers themselves this week.

Duquesne was playing a small-college schedule almost exclusively three years ago. Now they are more than a match for major powers, victorious in eight successive games so far this fall and numbering among their victims Detroit, Washington and Jefferson, Bucknell, Western Maryland and West Virginia.

Fine Record

The fullback of Knute Rockne's famous "four horsemen" went to Duquesne in 1926 after the Dukes had won only one game in seven against minor schools the previous year. Under his coaching Duquesne has won 48 games, lost 20 and tied seven in eight seasons, none of those defeats coming the first two years of Layden's regime.

Despite their impressive record this year, the Dukes do not figure to beat Pitt, long a nationally prominent gridiron power.

Army Wins

Like Georgia in its series with Yale, Army had to wait a long while before it could trim Harvard but the Cadets have been doing it pretty regular since 1928 when they first broke through.

The Crimson won 13 straight games starting in 1895 before the Military Academy won, 15-0, in 1928. A thrilling 20-20 tie in 1929 was followed by a 6-0 Army victory the following year. Harvard and Barry Wood checked the Cadets at West Point in the memorable 14-13 game in 1931 but Army rolled up the biggest score of the rivalry last year when the Crimson was submerged, 46-0.

The count is not likely to be so high this year but not even the most optimistic Harvard supporter expects anything but a triumph for Army's unbeaten eleven.

Marquette Eleven Loses One Regular

Milwaukee, Nov. 8—(AP)—Norman Frankenstein, regular right guard and only sophomore on the Marquette university line, today was believed lost for Saturday's final home game with Creighton because of illness.

Hazen McEssy, veteran end, was shifted to guard in scrimmage against the freshmen yesterday. The frosh, using Creighton plays, failed to make an impressive showing against the varsity.

"Buckets" Burns Up Grid League

A great tackle at Wisconsin before he left that school, Buckets Goldenberg is now a great fullback for the Green Bay Packers pro team. Goldenberg, as the pro league finished half its season, led the scorers of the eight teams with 42 points, most of them scored by terrific line plunging.

Sports Greatness Has Just Eluded Jumping Joe Savoldi

New York—If Joe Savoldi, the fourth oak of Three Oaks, Mich., is ever holder of the undisputed heavyweight wrestling title, it's the jumpin' guy's opinion that it won't be his very long. For there's that unlucky Milano star still haunting his fate.

The former Natre Dame fullback, who now grunts and groans loudly on the mat, is reluctant to discuss that star. Bu the story was pulled from him here after one of his recent matches.

Fate decreed that he should be born in Milano, Italy, 24 years ago. His father and mother, both natives of Italy, were residing in Three Oaks, Mich., when they received a cable to rush back to Italy. Joe's grandfather was dying from knife wounds inflicted by bandits.

The Savoldis arrived a week before Joe's grandfather died. Two hours before the end, Joe was born. An unlucky star, indeed! Joe weighed three and one-half pounds. He was so frail that the doctors would not allow him to return to America with his parents. They said he never would live to make the trip.

Relatives nursed Joe. Following the plows and the harvesters gave him strength. When he was seven, his parents returned to Italy to take him home. But Joe contracted whooping cough. Port officials refused to pass him, and for the second time the Savoldis crossed the sea without Joe.

Not until he was 12 years old did Joe touch American shores. Then, for the first time, he met his brother and sister, who had been born in Three Oaks. He couldn't speak, read or write a word of English.

Through high school and then to Notre Dame went Joe. The three and one-half pound baby grew into a 215-giant: the tiny, feeble baby became a gloriously chiseled physical model. Summers he worked in an iron foundry.

Jumpin' Joe played 14 games of intercollegiate football for Notre Dame, eight as a sophomore in 1929 and six as a junior in 1930. In the middle of his junior year, just as he was reaching the peak of his career, Joe's unlucky star again caught up with him. He was expelled for his secret marriage.

In the 14 games Joe played fullback, Knute Rockne's Fightin' Irish won all. To that end, he scored 17 touchdowns for 102 points, nine in 1929 and eight in 1930. Joe scored in every game he played but three: Army and Navy in 1929 and Carnegie Tech in 1930. He gained revenge against the Navy in '30 by scoring three touchdowns. Having scored the only touchdown that defeated Carnegie Tech, 7-0, in '29, Joe had no hard feelings against the Tartans. He was expelled before he could face the Army a second time.

Savoldi's real football greatness never will be known. His terrific line plunging in the 14 games he played stamped him as likely all-time All-America.

His strength, speed and stamina were taken to the wrestling game two years ago. Today Joe stands second only to Jimmy Londos as a national drawing card. What's more, he is the only grappler to score a victory over Londos in the last three and one-half years that the Athenian Apollo has claimed the world title.

Savoldi's amazing victory over Londos, achieved in one fall at Chicago several months ago, stirred a national argument as to its merits.

Every great wrestler must be identified by a single sensational hold, such as Frank Gotch and his toe-hold, Joe Stecher and his body scissors, Strangler Lewis and his headlock, Ev Marshall and his airplane spin, Gus Sinnenberg and his billy-goat butt, and Jim Browning and his airplane scissors. Savoldi's pride and joy is his flying dropkick.

Although he never kicked a ball at Notre Dame, a punt or a goal, a drop or a placement, Joe now kicks his opponents to defeat. Both toes carry dynamite as he hurls both legs at his rival, usually connecting with the opponent's chin, feet first, to knock him unconscious or so groggy that he is an easy victim for a pinning hold.

Joe had All-America glory within his grasp. . . but lost it. He had Londos' championship in the palm of his hand. . . and lost it. He whipped Jim Browning. . . . before Jim became a champion. And licked Strangler Lewis. . . after he had lost his title.

It's his unlucky Milano star, says Joe.

SKATE MARATHON

A 21-day roller skate marathon is to start in Detroit, Nov. 4. Twelve three-man teams have entered.

Women's Loop Keglers Hit High Scores

Ann Groch and Sylvia Bennett copped all honors in the Women's league on the Elks alleys last evening when Miss Groch led the First National Bank keglers to a two out of three games win over the Rexall Drugs team. Miss Groch collected 497 pins to cop the three game total of the evening while Miss Bennett, bowling with the Drugs, took high game of the eight teams that rolled by spilling 225 pins in her second game attempt.

The Tribune keglers won a close two out of three game match from the Elkettes, and in another match the Elkettes dropped three straight games to the Johnson and Hill keglers. Mrs. Gladys Kuenn led the department store keglers in the honors of their contest with high game of 189 pins and total score of 493. The other match of the evening found the Sugar Bowl keglers taking their first decisive win of the season when they copped three straight games from the Johnson and Hill team in the department store keglers' second match of the evening.

Hockey League Opens Season on Thursday

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—Like a stimulating blast from winter, the National Hockey league season will blow into the leading cities of the United States and Canada tomorrow for a stay that will last until close to the end of March.

The opening games at Toronto, Montreal and Chicago bring together the Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple leafs; rivals in a gruelling series for the league championship last March; the Detroit Red Wings and the Montreal Canadiens; and the New York Americans and Chicago Blackhawks. The rest of the teams will swing into action Saturday night, the Canadiens playing at Ottawa, Boston against the Maroons at Montreal and the champion New York Rangers at Toronto.

BIG TEN TEAMS HOLD BIG EDGE OVER OPPONENTS

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(AP)—John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Western conference, sticks his chest out an extra inch and joyfully takes the floor these days when football discussions drift into debates over inter-sectional superiority.

The Big Ten teams, taking time out of one of the hardest conference championship races in many a year, are having one of their greatest seasons against the enemy from without.

To date, they have won 16, tied one and lost only two games against teams outside their backyard, piling up a combined total of 410 points to only 59 for the opposition. That's an average of approximately 22 points to 3 per game in favor of the Big Ten entries. No wonder the major is a willing debater.

Good Record

One loss and the one tie were scored against two Big Ten teams low in the conference won and lost rating this year—Northwestern and Indiana. Notre Dame beat Indiana, 12 to 2, after three Hoosiers were cracked up in the Minnesota battle, whereas Northwestern, in an off season with one victory, two defeats and a tie against it in conference play, played a scoreless tie with Stanford. Illinois lost the other intersectional game, dropping a thriller against the Army, 6 to 0, at Cleveland.

Two teams invaded the Big Ten with unblemished records only to fall, Minnesota defeating Pittsburgh and Purdue dropping Carnegie Tech. Michigan's 40 to 0 victory over Cornell and Ohio State's 75 to 0 victory over the University of West Virginia were two of the victories.

Picks Wisconsin

Seven games against non-conference foes remain on the Big Ten schedule and three of them will be played and won, barring upsets next Saturday. Ohio State is regarded as a heavy favorite over Pennsylvania, Wisconsin should defeat West Virginia, and Purdue is given the call over Notre Dame.

Coach Noble Kizer of Purdue, who will face an embarrassing situation when he goes back to his Alma Mater for a game Saturday in the midst of rumors that he will succeed Coach "Hunk" Anderson of the Ramblers, is centering his drill on defense for the game.

Seaback Gets First Defeat in Tourney

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 8—(AP)—Eddie Sauers, Oakland, Calif., today has a chance to take undisputed leadership in the national pocket billiard championship tournament.

Sauers, tied with George Kelly, Philadelphia, for the top, each with five wins and one defeat, meets William Mosconi, Philadelphia, while Kelly has no match scheduled.

The first place tie resulted from wins yesterday by the two and the first defeat to Charles Seaback, Astoria, N. Y., who is tied with Mosconi for second place, each with four victories and one loss. Seaback also plays today, meeting Marcel Camp, Detroit. Other games on today's schedule will bring together Charles Summerell, Little Rock, Ark., and Harry Wood, Duluth, Minn., and Walter Franklin, Kansas City, and Sylvester Schliesman, of Minneapolis.

Seaback's first defeat was by Summerell, 56 to 125 in 29 innings, while Sauers beat Wood 125 to 112 in 27 innings; Kelly downed Camp 125 to 68 in 10 innings, and Mosconi won from Arthur Church, New York, 125 to 100 in 20 innings.

Stock Market Remains Quiet; Election Inspires Grains

Most Stocks Steady; But Trading Dull

BY VICTOR EUBANK
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—Financial markets generally sat on the fence today and viewed disinterestedly economic and political events both at home and abroad.

While stocks, as a whole, maintained a steady to firm position in extremely dull trading, and grains and cotton rallied moderately, equity buyers and sellers usually stood aside and waited for "something to happen."

Cotton recovered on government estimates of the crop, as of Nov. 1, of 13,100,000 bales compared with 12,885,000 on October 1. The increase was considerably smaller than some private estimates.

Figures on electric power output last week disclosed a further decline in the ratio of improvement over last year's total. The gain over the 1932 period was 3.8 per cent compared with a gain of 5.8 in the previous week.

CURB MARKET QUIET

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—The Curb was quietly irregular today. With volume about on a par with that of recent markets, prices drifted narrowly in both directions and the result was inconclusive.

Alcohol issues sagged. This group had been discounting prohibition repeal for some time, but recently traders have taken less interest in it doubtless because of the uncertainty which surrounds probable effect of taxation of operating profits.

Utilities were fairly firm, especially through the earlier dealings when results of yesterday's balloting indicated that several communities had rejected municipal ownership propositions. Electric Bond and Share, American Gas and American Superpower improved slightly.

Mining issues were dull and mixed and the same was true of specialties.

Wheat Price Jumps Over Four Cents

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN
(Associated Press Market Editor)

Chicago, Nov. 8—(AP)—With speculative interest decidedly broadened, wheat prices ran upward late today to almost 4 cents a bushel over yesterday's finish.

Election results which made certain that prohibition would be ended early next month came in for much attention as an incentive to buyers, and there was sharp notice taken also of advancing prices of gold, sterling and francs. Announcement that the United States government would furnish more than 5,000,000 bushels of wheat for feed to livestock in drought areas west and southwest served as an additional strengthening factor.

Top prices were not held. Wheat closed unsettled, 1 7-8 to 2 3-4 cents above yesterday's finish, Dec. 88 1-4 to 3-8, May 91 to 91 1-8; corn 1 1-4 to 1 5-8 up, Dec. 1-2 to 1-4, May 53 1-8 to 1-4, oats 1 1-2 to 1 5-8 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12 cents.

In Justice Court

The cases of State vs. Mary Rosenc and Joseph Kocha, both farmers of the town of Sherry, wherein they were charged with lewd and lascivious behavior, were dismissed on motion of District Attorney Charles M. Pors, this afternoon in Judge E. N. Pomainville's court, following the marriage of the couple this morning in Judge Pomainville's court. They were formally arrested on October 16 by Undersheriff Irvin Bey.

Daniel Martinovich, 19, Babcock, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to county court in Judge E. N. Pomainville's court this morning on a charge of larceny of articles belonging to the Babcock graded school, valued at $21. He was committed to the county jail until the time of his trial when unable to furnish bail fixed at $500.

Defendants In Bank Case Furnish Bail

Madison, Wis.—(AP)—Four of the five prominent Madison men arrested Tuesday on indictments returned in the county grand jury investigation of banks and financial institutions furnished bail today and a sixth man, for whom officers were looking, surrendered.

The latest arrest was that of Jacob Krings, real estate dealer.

Krings was charged with seleling second mortgage bonds to Anna Fleischman in the sum of $5,000 without a license to sell securities.

Those who provided bail today were: Ray H. Farness, former director of the Joseph M. Boyd Investment company, Edward B. Steensland, former president and now chairman of the Union Trust company; Lorenzo A. Atkinson, vice president and trust officer of the Union Trust company; and Conrad F. Martens, president of the Northwest Securities company.

William J. Hobbins, former president of the closed Capital City bank of Madison, was given until noon today to file bond.

Hobbins now is under sentence of one to three years in connection with the Capital City affairs but has appealed to the supreme court.

Mrs. Henry Knipprath and Mrs. E. Tracy visited with Mrs. Otto Peterson at her home in Saratoga Monday afternoon. Mrs. Peterson left Tuesday morning for a hospital at Madison where she will undergo an operation.

Cheese Warehouses Will Re-Open Soon

Marshfield— The two storage warehouses of the National Cheese Producers Federation in Central Wisconsin, one at Abbotsford and the other in Marshfield, will be producing cheese within another two weeks, according to federation officials. They will not be operated by the Federation however, as operating companies have been formed and will begin the production of cheese.

Neither plant will buy milk in sections where Federation factories are operatihg but will obtain their milk in other parts of their respective territories. More than 1,000 cows have been signed up by each plant to furnish milk and both plants expect to be in operation by November 15. Each plant will continue to store and cure cheese.

There were 235,139 passengers carried by American air passenger lines in the first six months of 1933. Of this number 166 were involved in accidents and only 44 were injured.

Drawn Guns Hold Farm Strikers at Bay

On one side of the tree stand deputy sheriffs with drawn revolvers. On the other side, huddled in grim silence, stand striking farmers. This dramatic scene near Waukesha, Wis., typifies the tense situation in midwestern and northwestern farm regions where farmers threatened to continue striking until their demands are met at Washington.

in England. If the improvement continues, he said, the dole which accounts for much of the heavy taxation may be removed.

Faith Is Evident

An outstanding characteristic of the British people, Mr. Purves stated, was their thorough knowledge of political and governmental affairs. They seem to be as critical as ever toward their government and those at the helm of affairs, yet he pointed out, there was real faith in the leaders as well as in all of the institutions of the government. The people were described as having full confidence in their financial and economic structure. The banks were said to be very strong but the people were expecting not only the government but all institutions to meet the changes in conditions as they arise. Stores in England and particularly in London were very busy and customers were forced to wait their turn for counter service, indicating to Mr. Purves that a general improvement in business affairs had definitely set in.

Tells of Visits

Many interesting descriptions were given by Mr. Purves of their visit to places of great historic interest, such as the Town of London, Hadrians Wall, Shakespeare's home, spots in both England and Scotland rich in the history of government, politics and literature. His talk was followed by an enthusiastic applause from the club and a large number of guests.

Wisconsin Products Week, with a luncheon menu of foodstuffs from the state and a brief talk by L. P. Daniels and National Education week with a few remarks by Superintendent of School Jules Wirden, were observed before the talk by Mr. Purves. The new Lincoln boys' quartet composed of Robert Bell and Robert Schill, tenors and Norman Monson and Norman Diedrich, basses, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Schroeder gave four numbers preceding the program.

Prohibition Party to Take Leadership Now Declares Dean

Madison, Wis.—(AP)— Declaring that the prohibition party will assume the leadership of the dry forces, now that prohibition has been repealed, William C. Dean, state party organizer, today appealed for support among those "opposed to the liquor traffic."

"The 18th amendment has been voted out of the constitution by a majority of the votes of the requisite three-fourths of the states," he said. "Although this was a hitherto untried method of amending the constitution, it is wholly fair and beyond reasonable criticism and a method which will doubtless be used more freely hereafter.

"It must not be inferred, however, that the nation has gone dripping wet. Careful analysis of the vote will show that hundreds of thousands of drys did not vote, not because they have turned wet, but because they had become convinced of the futility of trying to save the shadow of prohibition when the substance was already lost.

"The prohibition party, the only dry organization that is ready for an immediate advance, will now resume leadership of the dry forces from which it was displaced a score of years ago by the non-partisan movement that has led the drys up the blind alley of constitutional prohibition. With all other parties indisputably wet, There is no other ticket for drys to vote."

Ben Halverson of New Hope Is Dead

Stevens Point— Ben Halverson, chairman of New Hope township, and a former assembly of Portage county, died Monday evening at his farm home at 5 o'clock. A One Hundred Thousand Dollar Disaster in Central Wisconsin

Oh my! Oh my! What a shame and what is it all about? I see that Mr. W. A. Drollinger says that is just what has happened. My, oh my! I wonder if he wasn't one of the farmers that helped to bring on this great disaster. I am afraid so by the way he writes. Well we will just see. We all know that the big farm strike is on and I think we all know that if everyone of our farmer friends had kept his milk at home where it belongs that this great disaster he speaks of would never have happened. But it seems as though some of our farmers are satisfied with what ever the other fellow is willing to give him and is going to smuggle his farm products through at any cost and eventually this has brought one that great disaster. Owing to the fact that our strike calls for the cost of production on all farm products we are making that demand and if the non-striking farmer had kept his products at home for a week or ten days this great one hundred thousand dollar disaster would have been avoided. Now I would like to ask Mr. Drollinger or any one else if they call it business or even common sense for the farmers to be selling their produce way below the cost of production. Can you or anyone else tell me of any type of business, what ever you may call it, that ever sold their goods below the cost of production? If you can, I will show you some one that went broke mighty quick. Now the time is at hand when every same farmer should demand his rights, cost of production. I can't see how so many are trying to destroy their own business. I hone t-ly believe some farmers would sell their milk for ten cents a hundred rather than set a price on it. You can't blame the other fellow for buying as cheap as he can. I think it is a wonder we are getting anything at all from produce.

Now we are demanding cost of production and we are fighting for our homes and loved ones and still they call us hoodlums. But really I never even dreamed we were so bad till we found out that the citizens of Wisconsin Rapids would arm themselves with weapons of war and invade the ranks of their fellowmen, the farmer, the man that feeds the world, just because we are fighting for our homes and loved ones. I say the boys on the picket lines should be honored and respected just as much as the boys that left their bloody footprints in the snow at Valley Forge. Think it over, ride through the country and see the farm buildings that are going to rack and ruin, plenty visible on all sides, what's wrong? Good farmers, every one in the family working hard. Lots of them never even enjoying the blessing and comforts of life. Can't even go to church or Sunday school. No money to buy clothing and shoes suitable for the occasion. What's wrong? Let me tell you, all because we are selling our farm produce way below the cost of production. Still we have farmers that are fighting us tooth and nail and these same fellows couldn't buy a night shirt without they got it on the installment plan. Talk about farm relief, so far we have had none and if we don't know enough to help ourselves, we hadn't ought to have any either. But we are out to win and we are going to do it if it takes all winter. Give us the cost of production and the Frazier bill and in return we will show you that you are living in a land of sunshine and happiness in lieu of turmoil and despair. In closing I want to in behalf of the picket boys thank Johnson and Hill company and all those that have encouraged us to stand by what was right and we will never forget you when the clouds have passed away and the sun shines once more.

Yours for better times,
R. Parks.

AL SMITH IN ON CHASE SYNDICATE

STOCK MARKET INVESTIGATORS DISCOVER BANK LOANS TO SMITH AND OTHERS IN LARGE STOCK POOL.

Washington—(AP)—Senate stock market investigators said today the Chase National bank has submitted evidence showing loans of several hundred thousand dollars to Alfred E. Smith and other participants in a syndicate stock account shortly after the market collapse of 1929.

Other participants included John J. Raskob, who was chairman of the Democratic national committee when Smith was the party's presidential candidate, and Arthur Lehman, brother of governor Lehman of New York, a member of the investigating committee said.

The evidence submitted by the bank did not give any of the details of the transaction or show clearly the stock in which the syndicate was operating.

It indicated, however, that a loan of $336,000 was made to the group in November, 1929, and was subsequently enlarged.

According to the evidence, a large balance still was outstanding when the records were submitted to the committee.

Committee members said the list of syndicate participants also included the name of Norman H. Davis, American ambassador at large.

If the evidence is placed in the committee record it will be the first time that Smith has figured in the stock market inquiry, though the names of the others have figured several times in the past.

Fifty Couples At Elks Club Program

It was Ladies' night Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Elks Luncheon club and more than 50 couples were seated at an enjoyable dinner in the lodge hall which had been attractively decorated in the fraternity's colors, purple and white. Throughout the repast music was furnished by the regular Elks orchestra.

After dinner, members and guests played contract bridge. High scores were held by Mrs. Glenn Barrett for ladies and Henry Barlow for men, each of whom received an appropriate prize.

Later Halverson's Melody Men furnished music for dancing. C. K. Crouse was chairman of the event and other members of the committee included Gilbert Hein, Roy Love, Stanton Mead, Albert Amundson and Minard Gaulke.

PROPER PLAY SETS HAND

Defense Succeeds in Defeating His Contract, by Figuring Remaining Cards Held by Declarer

Solution to Preceding Contract Problem

BY WM. E. McKENNEY
Secretary, American Bridge League

There are times when you can count the cards right down and make a definite play. Then, again, you have to make a certain play because that is your only chance to defeat the contract. Such was the case in one of the hands which came up in the recent eastern Pennsylvania tournament of the American Bridge league at Reading.

The Bidding

Over North's bid of one heart, I like the double. However, with the West hand, instead of responding with one no trump, I would prefer the response of one spade. I like to tell my partner that I hold four in a major suit, especially when he doubles the other.

North: ♠ None ♥ K J 8 7 6 5 ♦ 6 5 4 3 ♣ 10 8 6
West: ♠ 10 8 6 5 1 ♥ Q 10 3 2 ♦ A 9 7 ♣ 4
East: ♠ A J 9 7 3 2 ♥ A 9 ♦ Q ♣ A K J 5
South: ♠ K Q ♥ 4 ♦ K J 10 8 2 ♣ Q 9 7 3 2

Duplicate—E. and W. Vul.
Opening lead—♥ 4

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♥	Double
Pass	1 N. T	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	5 ♣
Pass	5 ♦	Pass	6 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

The Play

South opened the singleton four-spot of hearts—not because it is a singleton, but because he had no better lead. A small heart was played from dummy, North played the jack, and declarer won the trick with the ace.

East then led his ace of clubs and played a small club, which he ruffed in dummy with the five of spades. A small spade was returned, declarer winning with the ace and picking up South's queen. This left the king as the only trump out.

Declarer cashed his king of clubs and discarded a diamond from dummy. To then played the jack of clubs, South covered with the queen, and the trick was trumped in dummy.

A small spade was returned from dummy and South was thrown in the lead with the king.

South can count the declarer for two red cards. He should lead his king of diamonds.

Why? Because if the declarer holds the queen and x of diamonds, there is no play that will defeat the contract. However, if he happens to hold a singleton diamond and a singleton heart, the lead of the king makes sure that the singleton queen will not make.

Since this is the case, South's play defeats the contract.

Today's Contract Problem

In the following hand, should South make an original bid of one, two or three? If South opens with a one bid and North passes, East will keep the bidding open. How should North and South proceed with the bidding?

North: ♠ 7 2 ♥ 9 7 5 4 ♦ J 9 6 5 2 ♣ 7 2
(Blind) West — N — East (Blind); S — Dealer
South: ♠ A K J 6 5 ♥ J ♦ None ♣ A K Q 9 6 4 3

CLEAN FOOTBALL by JOCK SUTHERLAND
FAMOUS PITT COACH

A LOT of dirty football players are experts in their line. They can pull off unfair tricks in a pile-up that the keenest-eyed referee cannot detect.

A good knowledge of self-defense is valuable to a player, if he is playing against just such an opponent. A fellow who can roll away from a punch and throw his opponent off balance can put him down under the pile-up.

I don't mean to advocate an "eye for eye" policy in this connection, but I do believe that a dirty player who persists in punching all through a hard-fought football game should be punished when he is guilty and after his offenses have been ignored repeatedly by officials.

Sketch shows how to avoid a straight punch and upset the opponent with a low charge.
